Case Study

Before What To Post?!

Posts were infrequent, and owner Ed was FRUSTRATED trying to manage it himself with his staff's help. When he called us for help, he was locked out of his Facebook Page and couldn't regain access. Zero Gravity's social media effort was, literally, nonexistent and they needed help

After What To Post?!

The night Ed called us for help, we joined his team and quickly set up a new Facebook Page. Then, we reported the original page to Meta, and eventually were able to regain access. Next, we merged the two pages. Ed has been so happy with our service, he calls us his "Social Media Ninjas", and, we now manage Zero Gravity's Facebook, Instagram, and TikTok.
